

The Presidential Election

Directions:

Fill in the map to show which candidate won each state. The information you need will be on your completed electoral vote chart on the Election Day Tally Chart.

Choose a color for each candidate, then color the box next to the candidate's name on the map legend. Shade in the states carried by each candidate with your chosen color. Under the name of the states, write in the correct number of electoral votes won. Next, write in the total electoral votes for each candidate next to his name in the legend. Title the map, and add any other details that you feel are important.
